

Possum Music presents

Grandad's Farm

featuring Ricky Possum

A great Australian show that will delight all children.

Ricky Possum will take children on an imaginary visit to Grandad's farm, where Grandad Larry has been living all of his life. Grandad is now 80 and ready to retire, he loves to tell stories about how farming used to be "in the olden days" and how it has changed.

Grandad Larry shows Ricky some farm artefacts and together with the help of the farm animals, they piece together the past and link it to how farming is today.

Ricky Possum will explore these artefacts from a different perspective allowing the children to experience:

- What it was like when it was just Aboriginal people living on the land that is now Grandad's farm
- What it would be like to ride in an old bumpy tractor
- How the diversity of livestock has changed on farms
- How the crops farmers grow are turned into the foods we eat
- What it would be like to shear a sheep

This is an interactive show and includes a lot of audience participation. The puppets introduce humour to the show as well as assisting to link the story together, along with some very catchy songs.
